

Say PANTS
to poverty

FUNDRAISING TOOLKIT

Smalls for All ® is a Scottish Charity which collects and distributes underwear to women and children in Africa and the UK. In Africa, we help those living in orphanages, slums, IDP camps and schools, as well as providing underwear to hospitals to help those suffering from medical conditions like obstetric fistula.

We also help charities that focus on alleviating poverty in the UK by providing them with underwear.

We always need funds to support the work we do.

PLAN OF ACTION

We're delighted that you've decided to help us and we want your fundraising to be as successful as possible, so we've put together a few tips!

Plan ahead

Why not set up a committee to help organise and publicise what you're doing? Planning is the key to success! Before you get caught up in the detail or the excitement, make sure you write a plan of action – when, where, what and who is responsible for each part of the event. Also, make sure you leave enough time to plan and promote your fundraising activity.

Make sure it's fun

The most successful fundraising is simple and FUN! When planning what you're going to do, keep it as simple as possible – getting sponsored to run/walk laps of your playground is easy and safe, but doing it with friends, in fancy dress, with teachers and parents and with some music suddenly makes it much more fun!

Date, time, target!

Decide on a date and time of day to suit as many people as possible. Once that is done, decide what your target is because this gives people taking part a goal, then make sure you tell everybody! You'll be surprised how those donations will add up!

Safe and legal

When you're planning your event or activity, remember the little things that will keep you safe – a first aid kit, water stops, equipment checks and the right staff to help.

Raffles and the law

When tickets are on sale to the general public, the organisation running the draw must be registered with the local authority.

The local authority's name is no longer required to be shown on the ticket, but the promoter is still responsible for ensuring the raffle complies with the law under the 2005 Gambling Act.

Each ticket must specify

- The name of the organisation running the draw
- Date and place of draw

PANTASTIC ACTION PLAN

- The name and address of the promoter – must be a named individual with a full postal address (not necessarily a private address)
- Price of ticket. The price of each ticket must be the same. It is ILLEGAL to offer free tickets (e.g. Tickets: 25p each, 5 for £1)
- Registered Charities must state either their Charity Number or state "A Registered Charity"

Private lotteries:

When ticket sales are restricted to members of one society, or persons who either live or work together on the same premises, it's not necessary to register with the local authority.

HELP US RAISE A FEW KNICKER FOR CHARITY

We're holding an event for Smalls for All® – a pantastic charity that collects and distributes underwear to women and children in Africa and the UK who need our help.

Underwear is a luxury some people can't afford. Giving pants and bras may seem like a small thing, but it can make a huge difference. For example, not having underwear can mean young girls miss days off school each month.

Smalls for All ®

Smalls for All ® is a Scottish Charity which collects and distributes underwear to help women and children in Africa and the UK.

For some people, pants and bras are an unaffordable luxury. But they can make a life-changing difference. For example, having pants can help teenage girls complete their education without having to miss school each month during their period.

In Africa, Smalls helps those living in orphanages, slums, IDP camps and schools, as well as providing underwear to hospitals to help those suffering from medical conditions like obstetric fistula. It also helps charities that focus on alleviating poverty in the UK by providing them with underwear.

Maria Macnamara MBE, DUniv (Open) launched Smalls in 2010. She had worked in financial services for almost 30 years when, in 2004, she decided to try a different kind of holiday and spent three weeks working with children in an orphanage in Brazil. This encouraged her to volunteer to work in Thailand in 2006 and Ethiopia in 2009.

It was following her experience in Ethiopia that she decided to set up Smalls.

In 2016, Maria gave up full-time employment to spend more time running the charity, and her work has attracted some high-profile recognition. In 2015, former Prime Minister David Cameron named her as a 'point of light' for her work as a volunteer. In 2016, she was awarded an MBE for services to charity and women's health in Africa. And, more recently, she was awarded an honorary degree of Doctor of the University by the Open University.
